Mixed Emotions By: Lynze Preece Written during a tumultuous time in her life, Mixed Emotions is a collection of varied emotional poetry from Lynze Preece. With no one to talk to during this time, Preece recorded her sentiments on paper, the one place she could feel what she felt and not face judgement. Her poetry is raw and personal, giving readers an in-depth look into one woman's mind as she sorts through her thoughts and recollections on life. In Mixed Feelings, Avan Jogia explores his complicated emotions around race, identity, religion, and family through poetry and imagery. Drawing on the author's own life story as well as interviews he's conducted with friends and strangers, Mixed Feelings serves as a dialogue starter for difficult topics that now, more than ever, need to be discussed. As we all know, a relationship can take many turns. Some can be for better and some for worse. This book aims to capture the feelings behind these "ups and downs." "Emotional Roller Coaster" is a compilation of poems from poets all around the world. No matter where you're from, we all can probably write a 500+ page book with all our various love stories and how being in love has changed our lives forever. As a child many of us view love as this magical feeling - and it truly is, but what we didn't know, is that it's not alllllll magical for all of us. If you're one of the lucky ones - you've been in The Good phase your entire relationship - or you've been through some of everything to get there... Sometimes it takes going through The Bad and The Ugly to get to The Good. But these two phases can also be the beginning of the end. Hey, were all different. This book comes from the perspective of men and women. Those who have loved and lost. Those who have cheated and been cheated on.

Those who have fought for their relationship to last and those who have given up. Join me in this amazing art form experience from the very talented writers. Many of the writers are award-winning poets with published works of their own. If you see any poems you like in the book, search them to see their other works. It's really been an honor to work with each of them. I appreciate their trust in me with their pieces and thank them for bringing my vision to life. Thank you for your support - Enjoy. This book is about the challenges of a young man struggling with schizoaffective disorder. These poems are written and portrayed from his mind of things he is facing or has faced, as a person with schizoaffective disorder and other mental challenges. The author is trying to help others become aware of the feelings and difficulties that he has faced with this mental disease as well as the people that can become affected by it. Part of my royalties will be donated to local mental health charities. The Poet is a daily comic strip about celebrating the little things and has been described as being like PEANUTS, but if Linus was an old man and Woodstock had an attitude. I Have Mixed Emotions About Storms is the ninth collection of The Poet comic strips, and follows its uniquely thoughtful cast of characters: the Poet, the Pigeon, and the Park Bench as they contemplate our silly place in the grand scheme of things, the meaning of poetry, and donuts. In this delightful collection, The Poet watches shadows get longer and thinks about pinecones, The Pigeon tries writing about kid detectives, and The Park Bench is usefully useless. "The Poet has a sense of humor about thinking hard and feeling deeply while not apologizing for such outrageous behavior. It's refreshing."- Hal Hartley, film director" Serene, existential, and self aware, Todd Webb's The Poet is a humorous and ultimately helpful respite from... everything." - Adam J. Kurtz, author of Things Are What You Make of Them: Life Advice for Creatives "These gently funny comics strike a happy balance between dreaminess and the corporeal world... an inarguably good thing." - Heather Christle, poet and author of What is Amazing "Todd Webb has figured out what poetry was missing all these years - PICTURES!" - Derek Drymon, executive producer of Adventure Time "I have been a joy-filled fan of Todd's work on The Poet for as long as I can remember. - Kevin Pollak, actor & comedian "Poets like poems, and birds like donuts. This Poet and bird share the crumbs of their life with love, and the occasional jab in the ribs." - John Porcellino, cartoonist King-Cat Comics & Stories "I love The Poet. It reminds me of how we can be delicate and pompous at the same time..." Tom Hart, cartoonist & founder of The Sequential Artists Workshop "Webb whittles and peels back layers to find more and more in these spare but vast strips. A man, a bench, a pigeon; THE WORLD. They hang out up the street from Charlie Brown, Thoreau, Bushmiller, and Cage." The Comics Journal Alan Breeze is a working class poet from Manchester England.His poetry reflects the lives and emotions of everyday working class people.It covers love and lost love, and humour and pain. This is an unapologetic love about loving someone no matter the circumstances or the consequences. Love isn't defined by others because your love is yours to give. There will be heartbreak, loss, and this very scary sensation of falling, but the sheer force of love makes it all worth it. (It sure brought back memories) The old me and the new me expressing myself the only way I truly know how. This collection of poetry offers a plethora of situations with a variety of feelings, insight and passion. The Author/Poet does not disappoint with this installment of emotions ranging from pain and hurt to faith in love. "Mixed Emotions" takes readers on a journey of reflection and hope. Mixed Emotions, is a collection that truly expresses all the feelings that derive from life and love. Take the journey with me...as I try to express my thoughts and feelings on all the emotions of life and love... Bridget Elkins is one of those rare and unique individuals who has been gifted with the power to reach inside your heart and touch your very soul. Her poetry will leave you laughing and crying, nodding your head in agreement and amazement. You will feel that somehow she read your secret thoughts and feelings, walked with you throughout your day, your childhood, your past, your dreams, and somehow translated all of this into the written word. Sheila Lowe-Burke, Editor If it's true that the eyes are the window to the soul, then author Bridget Elkins has rolled up the sash and thrown open the shutters in order that we may all look both ways in her book of poems Equation For Mixed Emotions. Ms. Elkins has observed her world—the world we share—and offered her impressions, sometimes bright, sometimes dark, sometimes happy, sometimes sad, but always full of promise! Her unique ability to express such personal and heartfelt feelings in such simple and understandable terms is the Window that allows us to see out so clearly. The window is open—feel the breeze, look at the stars, see people and watch what happens... it's all out there, and it's all in here, within these pages. Read each poem and look upon her world, then run outside and look back in through the same window at the gentle and compassionate soul of Ms. Bridget Elkins. John Latini, Singer-Songwriter The beauty of Bridget's poetry is that she simplifies the profound and brings it down to a level that we can all relate to. It is this simplicity that allows the reader to enjoy the sentiments without struggling to find the meaning. Sherri Muzher, Free-Lance Journalist and International Affairs Analyst Bridget Elkins is the Deepak Chopra of poetry! From dealing with alcoholism to falling in love, Elkins magnificently covers the full spectrum of the universal human condition. Her poetry reaches down into your spirit and brings forth hope, joy and healing. An essential resource for anyone searching for self-awareness. Joe Moore, Detroit Musician "my feelings are mixed through my love and pain these are the parts of me i wish i didn't see and other parts i'm proud to be all my feelings all of me here for you to see come inside and feel with me." From popular film and television actor Abraham Rodriguez comes mixed feelings, a collection of poems and photographs that explores the back-and-forth emotions and experiences of love, heartbreak, and healing. Emotive poetry is brought to life with photographs that illustrate story behind the words. Composed of both English and Spanish verse, this collection speaks to young people experiencing the highs of love and the lows of loss. This book of poetry is dedicated to everyone that has ever gone through a struggle in life. Most of the poems in this book ask questions, while others tell a story. Each contain a type of emotion brought on by experiences of real life situations. I ask that as you read each poem you picture yourself in that situation and think about your emotions and how you would feel, then shall you be able to form a connection between these poems and reality. A small collection of poetry that appeals to the heart and the charm of country life. Poetry is not just a form of entertainment; it is also a form of expression. Poetry can take any form, ranging from the simple to the complex. It can put images in your head, and it can even become a way of life. With poetry, it's not just about expressing how and what you feel but about giving others the opportunity to feel how you felt, too. From a child who knows nothing except the mean kids at school to a teenager falling in love for the first time to a middle-aged adult facing the hardships of a job, poetry is for anyone and everyone. It lets you say on the page what you could never dream of saying out loud. It is a safe, comforting armor that protects as well as inspires. Truth in Emotion is a collection of varied poems, ranging in topics like friendship, love, and death. Most of these poems were written based on author Shadlynn Burch's personal experiences while others randomly popped into her head. Shadlynn shares these poems with the hope that maybe you will find refuge in the written word as she has.
